Dear Dr. Yucesoy:

Thank you for your recent submission (4-30) entitled "The effectiveness of simultaneous prompting on teaching the use of photocopier to students with mental retardation" to Education and Training in Developmental Disabilities.

I am returning your manuscript, as it is not appropriate for the journal in its present form. While I found the content interesting, the reviewers saw this as a preliminary study in need of replication. The reviewers also noted the concerns you listed in the limitations section. Findings such as these that are limited are useful for designing further investigations but should not be published until there is confidence in the information. If the results reported were based upon various replications and samples, the body of data represented would be of much more value to our readers.

For future reference, please consult the APA manual for the general format and style requirements for manuscripts to be reviewed (e.g., statistics, headings, citations, references, tables, and figures).

Thank you for considering us.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'SHZ', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.
